Devotion Corner

“Keep this Book of the Law always on your lips; meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to do everything written in it. Then you will be prosperous and successful.” Joshua 1:8

A New Year, A New Plan

On Facebook over the past year I have read various posts from my mother about her enjoyment and interest reading the Chronological Bible and the One Year Reading Plan. Having read and studied a lot over the years it was nice to read of the benefit and fresh perspective she gained reading something old and yet new at the same time.

For Christmas this year both my bother-in-law and I received the One Year Chronological Bible. A fresh post yesterday from mom was the completion of day 365 and the anticipation of starting all over again in 2016. Guess who else has completed day 1,2, and 3 and is looking forward to 361 more days?

How about you? Do you have a plan for 2016? Will it include something old, or something new?

It's never too late to start but on a couple days into the New Year is as good of a time as any.
